INTERMEDIATE (B1)

Module 1

With this module, you can:

- Talk about work experiences, recent tasks, and routines using clear, simple language.
- Explain what they are doing now and what they plan to do next.
- Follow and participate in everyday workplace conversations on familiar topics.
- Ask for clarification and give basic explanations when something goes wrong.

In professional contexts, this means:

- Giving short status updates in meetings.
- Explaining rules, responsibilities, and simple procedures.
- Taking part in conversations without needing constant support.

Progress is evidenced when the student:

- Speaks in complete ideas instead of isolated sentences.
- Makes fewer basic grammar errors that affect understanding.
- Can keep a conversation going and be understood without repeating everything.

Review + Checkpoint

Module 2

With this module, you can:

- Describe processes, problems, and solutions with more detail.
- Report what others said and summarize meetings or discussions.
- Compare options and give simple reasons for decisions.
- Handle predictable work situations with confidence.

In professional contexts, this means:

- Reporting on meetings and decisions.
- Explaining how tasks or services work.
- Giving feedback and handling basic disagreements politely.

Progress is evidenced when the student:

- Connects ideas logically and speaks with more fluency.
- Self-corrects while speaking instead of stopping
- Responds appropriately to follow-up questions and new information.

UPPER INTERMEDIATE (B2)

Module 1

With this module, you can:

- Explain complex tasks, systems, and decisions clearly.
- Express opinions and support them with reasons and examples.
- Speculate about causes, consequences, and possible outcomes.
- Use a wider range of grammar to be precise and specific.

In professional contexts, this means:

- Presenting ideas and proposals with structure.
- Explaining decisions and alternatives in meetings.
- Participating actively in problem-solving discussions.

Progress is evidenced when the student:

- Is understood easily without simplifying ideas.
- Organizes spoken messages clearly from start to finish.
- Uses English to influence decisions, not just share information.

Review + Checkpoint

Module 2

With this module, you can:

- Manage tone, emphasis, and nuance in professional communication.
- Disagree, negotiate, and give feedback diplomatically.
- Adapt language to different audiences and situations.
- Express complex ideas fluently and spontaneously.

In professional contexts, this means:

- Leading discussions and contributing strategically.
- Handling sensitive conversations with confidence.
- Presenting data, arguments, and recommendations convincingly.

Progress is evidenced when the student:

- Speaks naturally and confidently in demanding situations.
- Adjusts language based on context and audience.
- Communicates ideas clearly, persuasively, and appropriately.
